

Payment Agreement for NC State Tuition and Fees under the GI Bill

The University requires payment in full prior to the beginning of each semester; however, students approved to attend NC State under the GI Bill are provided a monthly stipend, of which a portion is intended as payment of educational and/or housing costs. GI Bill students may make monthly payments of current semester charges under the following terms and conditions:

- The Student provides verification from the NC State University VA Certification Officer.
- The Student makes payments towards current semester charges coinciding with receipt of their benefit payments for the duration of that semester.
- Current semester charges must be paid in full no later than the last day of exams for that semester.
 - A student's upcoming semester schedule is subject to cancellation if all current and prior semester charges are not paid in full by this date.
 - If a student's GI bill payments are delayed, the student will need to contact the VA Regional Processing Office. The VA office must provide documentation, or official notification of the delay, to the University Cashier's Office or University VA Certification Officer in the Registration Office.
- Students on the GI bill may be cleared to register for an upcoming semester only if they have made payments in accordance with this agreement and do not have outstanding balances for items other than current semester charges.
- Penalty and Interest charges may apply to unpaid balances during the current semester. However, these charges will be credited if payments have made in accordance with this agreement and the principal amount is paid in full by the last day of exams for the current semester. Outstanding amounts for prior semester charges are subject to Penalty and Interest in accordance with the requirements of General Statute 147-86.23.
- If the student becomes ineligible for benefits under the GI Bill, payment must be made in accordance with standard university policy.
